

Jennifer Duckworth, CFM, NGICP, is a Senior Environmental Engineer with Tetra Tech, Inc. specializing in stormwater management and green infrastructure. She helps facilities manage stormwater for permit compliance, writes and edits hazard mitigation plans and technical documents, supports trainings and meetings, and designs outreach and education materials.

Ms. Duckworth serves as an adjunct professor at Kean University, on the Essex County Environmental Commission, on the Jersey Water Works Green Infrastructure Subcommittee, as trustee of the Rahway River Watershed Association, as a New Jersey Certified Master Gardener, as a Certified Floodplain Manager, and as a National Green Infrastructure Certified Professional.